Georgia Chamber Endorses Don Hogan for 179th State House District

Atlanta, Georgia – Thursday, September 24, 2020 – The Georgia Chamber of Commerce announces its endorsement of Don Hogan for State House District 179, which includes portions of Glynn County. Each election cycle, the Chamber’s Political Affairs Council vets dozens of candidates for office. After working through the endorsement process, business leaders from across the state are confident that, as a pro-business incumbent, Mr. Hogan will continue make effective policy decisions that positively impact free enterprise and job creation throughout the state.

“After vetting the candidates running for Georgia’s 179th House District, our members believe there is a clear choice in who will champion economic development opportunities for Coastal Georgia ” said David Raynor, Georgia Chamber’s Chief Public Affairs Officer. “The Georgia Chamber is proud to endorse pro-business candidates like Representative Don Hogan and looks forward to continue working with him under the Gold Dome.”

Don Hogan added, “I am proud to have earned the endorsement of the Georgia Chamber in my bid for re-election in House District 179. Since first elected to the legislature, I have made bringing jobs and economic opportunities to Georgia’s coast a top priority. I look forward to continuing my work with the business community to bring prosperity to all Georgians once re-elected.”

The Georgia General Election will take place Tuesday, November 3, 2020. The Georgia Chamber is a nonpartisan organization that is dedicated to working with elected officials to ensure a future of economic growth for Georgia businesses, workers and families.
